The city engineer was instructed to prepare specifications for filling Ninth street between Glendale avenue and Granada streets. An ordinance adopting specifications for street work in the City of Glendale, was taken up and passed to third reading. ## SPECIAL CLUB MEETING.

The weather was unfavorable for the special meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, for the purpose of completing the program of last week, but a fair attendance was present. The following topics were presented by the members named:

"Brio-a-Brac," Mrs. Leavitt; "Air," Mrs. Wells; "Wine," Mrs. Goode; "Water," Mrs. Witham; "Waste Newspapers," Mrs. Church; "Music in the Home," Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Leavitt's remarks were of particular interest, illustrated as they were by many Japanese specimens and photographs, showing the methods of growing and curing tea, with models showing the ceremonial tea service. All of the program was interesting and presented in an attractive manner by the participants.

DR. WISHARD ON MORMONISM.

On Sunday night at the First Presbyterian church, the Rev. Dr. Wishard spoke to a large and appreciative audience upon the subject of Mormonism. Perhaps no speaker is better informed along this line than Dr. Wishard who spent sixteen years among the Mormons, and is a writer of note upon the subject.

During the coming month, he expects to go out to China as one of a committee to investigate on account of the very serious disturbance caused by laymen, especially throughout the East, regarding the necessity of foreign missions. While in the foreign field he will visit his son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. A. A. Fulton, at Canton, China.

Dr. Wishard used a map to illustrate his talk, and spoke chiefly of the manner in which the Mormons are spreading over the country, growing in numbers and power. He declared their "missionaries" would visit Glendale and soon, as they had already visited Pasadena, Highland Park, etc. They visit the homes, and seek to interest as many as possible, putting up what appears on the surface as "straight talk," but is in reality the grossest untruth. Dr. Wishard treats the Mormon question very exhaustively in a series of three lectures devoted to their church, social and political life, but in crowding all three into one, he must necessarily leave out many matters of interest to his auditors. The lecture, however, was a veritable revelation to many of the audience and of great interest to all.

THE WEATHER.

The "unusual" has happened again. Not for many years do we remember having so heavy a rainfall in one storm during October. We have not a correct measurement, but approximately over an inch of rain has fallen up to this time (Thursday) since the storm began, and the continued mildness of the temperature and the wind from the south indicate the fall of still more moisture.

Last season the rainfall during October was one-tenth of an inch. The "unusual" last year was the unprecedented frost on Oct. 23rd; in twenty years previously we had not had frost before November.

The early rain will do considerable damage to beans, grapes, tomatoes and unprotected hay; but is offset by the clearing of the atmosphere charged with dust particles, microbes and things. The hay fever victim will be as jubilant as the farmer who has no crop exposed. A continuance of mild damp weather will result in a coating of new verdure on our hills and valleys within a fortnight, which will again be truly "unusual." A green Thanksgiving has hitherto been rather rare to South California, and green hills in October will be notable.

FROM AFRICA TO GLENDALE.

In a letter just received from Miss Nellie Arnott, Bengnella, Africa, and dated July 15th, she says:

"I am having a little patch of wheat cut today. The girls cut one head at a time with a sharp knife. When it is cut the girls will pound it and with the help of the winds, will blow out the chaff. I only planted one quart of seed and shall be interested in the outcome. Mrs. Sandus planted three quarts and has twenty-two quarts from them. We grind it in a small hand-mill and use it for breakfast food. Before it is ground we hull it as we do corn, in a mortar. We are so thankful that no fires have been started about us this season and pray that none may be near any of the outstations of our mission. I heard of a curious custom among the people the other day. One of our women, Nangula, has a little boy. He fell in the fire that day and burned his arm. Because of it her husband's relatives took her baskets and some nice pots as a punishment. We were told that in some of the villages the husband's relatives claim everything the poor wife owns, in case her child gets burned."

"We hope that he next physician who offers himself for Africa will be sent to us. The nearest one now is ten hours from us. The press boys are just completing the two thousand hymn books. Now we will be busy for weeks binding them. Mrs. Sandus cuts all the covers. We will bind them with staples except those we use which will be sewed."

THE SEASON FOR QUAIL.

The season for quail opened on the 15th and at daybreak the flushing began. Many local hunters took the opportunity to bag a few, though the majority of shooters, of course, was from Los Angeles. It is reported that a larger number have outfitted for the season than in any previous year.

The San Fernando Valley is a great vantage point for trigger knights and likely spots are Verdugo and Sycamore canyons, where, however, the birds soon get wild and the limit difficult. The cloudy weather proved very favorable and made it comfortable for hunters and the dogs, though at nine o'clock the downpour of rain practically ended the first day's shoot. However, the rain softens the weeds and dried grass and puts the ground in excellent shape, making better sport, as the quail are not so easily flushed and better straightway shooting is afforded.

COUNTY TAXES.

Are now payable at the corner of Franklin and Spring streets, Los Angeles. The Court House being overcrowded, the tax collector has moved into these quarters, which are conveniently located for the general public.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

J. Brandt Walker, clears up from three to five millions on recent slump in stocks in Wall street.

Great contest between Harriman and Fish in Chicago at stockholders' meeting of the Jamestown Exposition company, to be in New York Central for control of that road.

Treasury officials admit that the $1,000,000 loaned by the government to the Jamestown Exposition company, is likely to be a dead loss.

Tunnel under the East river, between New York and Long Island City, completed. Was begun in 1905, and finished by the contractor within stipulated time.

Steve Adams, charged with being the "slugger" for the Western Federation of Miners, by Harry Orchard, to be tried again at Rathdrum, Idaho, for murder of Tyler, in 1904.

Explosion at Dupont Powder mills, Fontanet, Ind., destroys the town, kills forty people, injures one hundred others. Immense damage to property, force of explosion felt two hundred miles distant.

BUILDING NOTES.

F. McG. Kelley has almost completed a new story and a half six-room house on Verdugo Road and First street.

L. E. Brockman has plans for a house to cost $3000 to be located on Second street and Verdugo Road.

Geo. B. Mock has bought the old Patterson house and three lots fronting on E (Everett) street. He is having the house enlarged and remodeled at considerable expense.

Mrs. Marchant is preparing to build a $2600 house on the corner of Orange Grove avenue and E (Everett) street.

Mr. Buchanan, on Louise street, between Second and Third, is having a new front put to his house which will add about $1000 to its value.

C. M. Lund is making a large addition to his blacksmith and repair establishment on Third street. The new structure will be used principally for the storage of vehicles.

Building Inspector Shropshire reports that the month of October thus far is the banner one for Glendale.

On Tuesday afternoon the Woman's Missionary Society of First Presbyterian church met with Mrs. E. T. Byram, Glendale avenue. There was a very fair attendance and after the regular routine business the program was placed in the hands of Mrs. S. L. Ward. Her topic, "Persia," was thoroughly well handled from the speakers' familiarity with her subject, as she resided many years in that field. The dress, habits and lives of the people were touched upon, and their dire need of salvation. As usual, with this speaker, she enlivened her description with bright little anecdotes, making her talk one of extreme interest to all fortunate enough to be there.

GLENDALE, CAL., OCTOBER 19, 1907

The El Monte Gazette quotes our opinion about Political Fakirs and then asks if "Jim McLachlan" is meant. No, he is not. In an acquaintance with Congressman McLachlan extending over the period since he entered politics in California, we have asked just one favor of him, and that not for our personal benefit, but for the community; and it was granted against the desires of Senator Flint and some others pretty high up in railroad circles.

This may not be proof of anything in particular, but it is certainly evidence which we have chalked down to Mr. McLachlan's credit and which we cannot entirely reconcile with the idea that he belongs altogether to the S. P. Railroad Company.

A New Poet

The twentieth century has not thus far been productive of the birth of a great poet, unless the star of George Sterling, just now visible above the literary horizon may prove to be the long looked for sign of his coming. He is vouched for by Ambrose Bierce, in whose critical judgment we have had considerable confidence heretofore for is he not an admirer of Joaquin Miller, Frances Dawson and some others? Mr. Bierce declares that Geo. Sterling is the greatest poet this side of the Atlantic. We are glad of the limitation, as it does not obliterate Kipling! The critic's high praise is evoked by the poem entitled "The Wine of Wizardry," tho why not "The Wizardry of Wine" we fain would like to know! The poem is a nightmare of Fancy and full of original adjectives turned neatly in well metered verse. Two lines will indicate the style.

"The blue-eyed vampire sated at her feast Smiles bloodily against the leprous moon."

Blue-eyed vampires are something new in poetry, and possibly when taken in connection with these lines:

"A sick enchantress scans the dark to curse Beside a caldron vext with harlot's blood,"

may indicate a poet born to the world, but it really seems to us that he should appear upon the stage in a more temperate guise even at the risk of being overlooked.

Let the Fleet Come

An eastern paper, one of that numerous class that has editors sitting up nights to criticize the president and his policies, speaks of "the folly and danger of sending a fleet to the Pacific coast."

We are left in doubt as to why it is folly or in what the danger consists.

It will be recalled by our readers that the United States, when war broke out with Spain, was entirely unprepared to enter upon a conflict with that third-rate power. There was one saving feature of the situation, however: we had an assistant secretary of the navy who had been in office only a few months, but who had accomplished something. He had inaugurated a system of gunnery practice upon our war vessels which had accomplished much in the very short time it had been in effect. The practice had made the men familiar with their work and laid the foundation for the excellent service rendered by our gunners when confronted by the enemy a short time afterwards.

Theodore Roosevelt was that assistant secretary of the navy. The policy inaugurated by Roosevelt when assistant secretary of the navy has been in vogue ever since. Under his administration both the army and navy are allowed but little chance of getting rusty during the "piping times of peace." And in pursuance of this policy the fleet is coming to the Pacific coast. Let it come. The officers may miss a few social functions and the jacksies some shore leave sprees; some barnacles may fasten on to the ship bottoms and rust corrode the smoke stacks, but still let them come!

As for the danger of it; well the soldier, the marine and the man behind the gun, even the soot-begrimed American citizen down in the lower region where the coal bunkers are, will not look upon the project any less favorably because of that.

October

Without abating one jot or tittle of our abiding faith in and our admiration for "the great state of California, sir," we still must confess that there are things that we miss at times; remembrances that we would fain revive by repeated experience.

There is the glory of the October woods, the turning of the leaves to that golden beauty that tells of the swift approach of the nights of frost and the swirling autumn winds that send them floating on the air to lodge upon their last resting place. The open chestnut burr that has fallen over night and lies on the ground with its exposed treasure of nuts to be picked out daintily from the open mouth hedged about with sharpest spines; or perhaps it grins down at one temptingly from high branches, from which position of fancied security a well hurled club brings it rattling to the ground, the brown nuts dislodged from the protecting hull, tumbling down on the dry leaves with musical pattering!

And the hickory nuts, the apples and the elder press; how fragrant their memory!

And then there was a fence running along the edge of the woods next the corn field, and the top rails of it were to the grey squirrel of the hickory tree a broad highway along which he ran with many a skip and jump on his way between his home in the tree and the place where the juicy corn ears grew! There was the call of the Bob White in the clearing and the cry of the flicker in the gum tree; the whirr of the rare swift partridge in the woods and the plaintive call of the distant dove. And over and around it all that hazy, beautiful, mystic Indian summer atmosphere that clothed all distance with its purplish hue! The ozone of the frosty mornings and the wine of the hazy afternoons, these are among the memories of the October that we knew back yonder; and looking toward the distant east whence the tourists come, we grant them generously the one month out of twelve!

Circulating a Fraud

The Los Angeles Real Estate Exchange in some of its published literature, gives circulation to the Pacific Electric map, that choice production which represents the old and most populous portion of Glendale as "East Glendale." Of course, the Los Angeles Real Estate Exchange has no intention of misrepresenting our town, neither had the Evening News any intention of doing so when it recently published a copy of the same map. Other concerns who have given the thing credence and circulation have been equally innocent, and the innocent parties to the fraud are therefore absolved.

No business man anxious to preserve a reputation for fair dealing, would be guilty of such misrepresentation; but the Pacific Electric Company has no such scruples. It would be just as fair and as honorable for the Board of Trade of Glendale to have a map made and circulated upon which the portion of Glendale traversed by the Pacific Electric road would be designated as "West Glendale." It might be justified on the plea that the old established center of Glendale is some six blocks east of the railroad and was established some twenty years sooner—but it would be a fool thing to do.

The Pacific Electric road runs to Glendale; there is no one so imbecile as to dispute the fact. So does the Salt Lake Railroad, the tracks of which are on Glendale avenue; and can anyone but an imbecile or some petty officials of the Pacific Electric Company deny that fact? Then why should the Pacific Electric Company continue to circulate this palpable fraud unless it is a deliberate effort to deceive?

We call attention to this matter again in no sectional spirit—which was the spirit in which the thing was conceived—but in a desire that Glendale shall be recognized as a growing city, with a community of interests which would take in more than that which is incorporated, embracing ultimately, we hope, all the territory from Eagle Rock to Burbank and from the mountains to the river.

Making Justice a Farce

A dozen or more citizens of Glendale were summoned to act as jurors at Burbank a few days ago in the case of The People vs. Lane, charged with a breach of the peace. They were taken from their homes and businesses at some expense to themselves and upon arrival at Burbank were allowed to come home again, the district attorney having the case dismissed.

Mr. Lane was guilty of a mere technical violation of the law and Judge Melrose in dismissing the suit took into consideration, very properly, the fact that there was an absence of any intent to do an illegal act.

Out of this case a fracas resulted in which the Lanes, father and son, the barber and Constable Dewey were mixed up. The constable paid a fine and the others are to be tried in the justice's court at San Fernando.

Altogether it seems to have been a petty neighborhood row that never need have set the machinery of justice in motion. Affairs of this sort do much to make the administration of real justice difficult and to bring our lower courts and peace officers into disrepute; and those who needlessly involve the courts in trials of petty cases hinging on individual spite, deserve severe condemnation.

LET THE WORLD KNOW.

Pondering sometimes over that misguided business man who will not spend a dollar for fear that the same identical coin will never be seen by him again, we grow not pessimistic but discouraged at man's limitations. Here is the old world spinning through space as it has always done, the same old principles holding good as applied to humanity in general and the same old records of success and failure to be read by him who runs, and yet the individuals still exist who actually turn away from knowledge. In all the records of business success achieved by men who have been in the business of selling goods of any description, liberal advertising always figures as one of the principal factors. And yet the man in business who does not advertise flatters himself that he is a special case and that he does not need to let the world know that he is doing business in it. This shrinking modesty is the secret of many failures. A modern poet expresses the idea aptly:

"He who whispers down a well
Will never reap the golden dollars
About the things he has to sell
Like him who climbs a tree and HOLLERS!"

On Wednesday, October 9th, Miss Josephine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmargo of B street, and Refugio Duarte, were married in Los Angeles at the church of Sacred Heart, only close friends and relatives being present. Mr. C. O. Rich who has been summing at his old home in Boston and "down in Maine," even getting as far away as Canada, returned to Glendale this week looking years younger as a result of his trip. During his absence Mr. Rich rode nearly 1500 miles on the trolley cars which now reach a great many points in New England. A five cent fare, will carry one who familiarizes himself with the transfer rules, an incredible number of miles, so that he can ride all day for a few nickles. Altho a Californian of twenty years residence. Mr. Rich is free in his praise of old Boston and New England generally, while expressing appreciation of the development of that section during the years of his absence.

On Friday evening, October 25th, the members of the L. C. D. E. club will give an entertainment and serve luncheons and ice cream at I. O. O. F. hall, to raise money for their fund to be used for the support of a young girl among the mountain whites. There will be a nigger baby drill, some fine darky songs, and good refreshments. Darktown society will be well represented and will do all they can to entertain you. Members of all denominations are cordially asked to come and help in a worthy cause. You will surely get your money's worth. Uncle Tom and little Eva will be there, and Liza Harris and old Mammy Johnson will welcome you at their cabin where you will get a good lunch and ice cream if you want it. Sam Jones and Angelina Parkins and dozens more will be on hand.

Grammar School

Both teachers and pupils are enjoying a term of earnest, purposeful work.

Ticket selling for the Art Exhibit was an additional duty which the children entered into enthusiastically this week.

Mrs. Thomas Addison from Boston placed her girls, Anna and Marion, in our eighth and fourth grades this week, and the twin sisters, Elsie and Myrtle Steinman, entered the third grade.

The grammar school base ball team played the Burbanks last Saturday. The Burbanks won in the morning, the score being 26-24. The afternoon game Glendale won, the score being 16-11. The members of the team are: J. Aakeland, c.; J. Bowman, p.; A. Knight, 1st base; L. Goode, 2d base; C. Shropshire, 3d base; R. Hammond, l.f.; C. Bidwell, c.f.; H. Bidwell, r.f.

The New Electric Line

The committee that is working on this project have experienced many annoying delays and have put in a great deal of time in straightening out right of way matters and other vexatious questions that have arisen. They think that the matter is practically settled and have the assurance of railroad officials that they want to build the road. The signatures of the representatives of the company to the contract will probably be appended to the document before our next issue.

LAYS OF A QUIET TOWN.

LAY II.

Watson is an upright man, As upright as can be, For one who serves the people well in place of town trustee.

In this position problems rise Which good trustees perplex, They work their thinkers over time And e'en their souls do vex.

Now here is one which troubles him, As he looks all around it, He wouldn't swear for anything But firmly says "Confound it!"

It seems a horse was to be bought, Some fire plugs too, acquired, And as is proper in such a case The chairman was inspired.

Committees to appoint, and so The best results secure; Quoth he, "T. Watson is the man He's upright, and he's sure."

"I'll put him on the fire plug job, While I secure the horse, It seems to me he's very fit And he will serve, of course."

And so he did, but see the plight The job has got him into, He's so perplexed he scarcely knows A wood horse from a pinto!

Says he, "the Mayor buys a horse, Moth eaten as a rug Forgotten thru' the summer time, In fact, a perfect plug."

As a member of committee On Fire Plugs, as you see, The firing of that plug of his Is clearly up to me!

But then, the Mayor is my friend, Or was until this mix-up, And how can I the job defend, And all my fences fix up!

He'll sure refuse to fire the plug, And fire me out instead, I fear me that this fire plug job Will stand me on my head.

But if I am turned wrong side up I still will upright be— I'll fire that plug if I am fired Into obscurity!

[Note: This is an example of poetic license. The Mayor has not purchased a horse—yet.—Ed.]

Y. W. C. T. U.

On Monday evening the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its first meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ward.

At a meeting in one of the churches, addressed by Mrs. Hester T. Griffith, county president of the W. C. T. U., a number gave their names signifying their willingness to join an organization of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Both young men and young women are eligible. These societies, of which there are twelve in this county, are often referred to as Y's.

The organization here was recently completed with the assistance of Miss Mary A. Stewart, county Y secretary, and Miss Mary E. Yeo, state Y secretary.

Monday evening's meeting was presided over by Miss Yeo and Miss Pearl Perkins, the president. Miss Margaret Quackenbush is the secretary, while Miss Wilma Hatfield is in charge of the finances.

Plans were made for the next meeting, which will be held at the same house, so kindly offered by Mr. and Mrs. Ward.

Any who would be glad to have the Y meet with them, can communicate with the president, Miss Perkins, Sunset phone 722, or with the secretary, Miss Quackenbush, over Sunset phone also.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

We had a very interesting meeting at the Prohibition tent on last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Mills had charge of the meeting, assisted by our president, Mrs. Gaylord.

Mrs. Ayers led the devotional exercises in a very able manner. We had appropriate music, led by Mrs. Blanchard, and a beautiful solo by Mrs. Hall.

Mrs. Blanchard gave a very interesting address on seed sowing, then followed an interesting discussion by our honorary members who were present.

In the evening the "Y" secretary of Pasadena, Miss Mary Stuart, had charge of the meeting. She is a very pleasant and intelligent talker.

We also had a medal contest. All the numbers were good. Miss Ruth Satis secured the medal.

The Marple Quartet rendered some exceptionally fine music to the delight of all present. Mrs. Hall also sang an appropriate solo.

PRESS SUPERINTENDENT.

On Wednesday evening the pleasant affair arranged for Rev. C. R. Norton, by the members of Carnation Rebekah Lodge, proved a most decided success. After a very short business session the doors were thrown open to Odd Fellows and friends of the pastor. A fine program afforded much pleasure, and closed with a few well-chosen remarks by Mr. E. D. Goode, addressed to the honor guest, in which he pointed out not only the sorrow of his true friends that he was going away, but especially the great good wrought in this community through his efforts and untiring faith in the people. In appreciation thereof Mr. Goode then presented the reverend gentleman with a very substantial purse from the members of the two lodges. Mr. Norton's reply touched every heart as he thanked his kind fraternal friends. Music then enlivened the hour, when punch was served, with dainty wafers, from a table artistically arranged by the tasteful Noble Grand, Miss Ida M. Walte. Honey-suckle vines, glowing geraniums in Japanese bowls and waxen candles in quaint brass candle sticks made a pretty setting for the well-filled punch bowl.

L. T. L.

On Thursday afternoon at the Prohibition tent there were exercises under the leadership of Mrs. Noll, superintendent of this department for Los Angeles county. 149 children were present; 33 new names were added to the roll, making the total membership 104.

Mrs. Noll gave a map talk which was interesting and instructive.

Musical at the Country Club

The musical event of the new season occurred on Thursday evening at the Glendale Country Club. Members and many of their music-loving friends were delighted with the exquisite program rendered. The artists were Mrs. Edmund Shank, Miss Alice C. Wakefield, Madame Manesco, violinist, and Mr. E. S. Shank, Mr. Roland Paul; Mr. Arthur Sessions, accompanist. Encores were generous, showing full appreciation of the excellent work of each artist.

The following item of local interest we found in the New York Sun and acknowledge our contemporary's "scoop":

A CUCUMBER CELEBRATION
From the San Francisco Chronicle
The harvesting of the great cucumber crop of 400 bushels has been begun near Verdugo and the cucumber fete, an annual celebration, was held today. The entire crop will go into complexion salve in the form of preserved juice and ultimately will be spread over the cheeks of the Four Hundred in many of the cities.

It is estimated that these 400 bushels, all of which will be gathered by tomorrow, will produce enough ointment to reach over half a million faces two dozen times.

FLAG PRESENTATION.

One of the most pleasant events in the history of N. P. Banks Woman's Relief Corps, and there have been many in G. A. R. Hall, occurred Friday afternoon, following the close of the semi-monthly meeting, when an elaborate banquet was tendered Miss Cora Hickman, at which "me a large handsome silk flag was presented her as a token of the love and esteem in which Miss Hickman is held by the members of the Corps, and also for her loyalty to the Corps and untiring efforts in remodeling and furnishing G. A. R. Hall. Long white satin streamers were attached to the silken banner, bearing in letters of gold the inscription, "W. P. Banks' Woman's Relief Corps," also the name of Miss Hickman. This happy surprise had been arranged a month previous by the ladies of the Corps. Friday afternoon Miss Hickman was purposely detained at home by Miss Emma Hagerty, who knew of the scheme, and did not arrive at the G. A. R. Hall until late in the afternoon. The hall had been most elaborately decorated in masses of white chrysanthemums, scarlet geraniums and trailing greenery. The long, handsomely decorated tables were arranged in the form of a letter T. Small flags and place cards with knots of scarlet ribbon added much to the decorations of the tables. A large cake bearing simply the word "Cora" was the first intimation Miss Hickman had that all this happy occasion was intended for her and this was not observed until all were seated and Miss Pratt, chaplain, had returned thanks. Mrs. Delia Haggood, past department patriotic instructor, also past corps president, then in most eloquent words presented the silken flag to Miss Hickman, who was so overwhelmed that her response for the time was to take up the folds and kiss the starry banner. Mrs. Charles Peckham, with Mrs. David Imler, accompanist, sang in her sweetest voice "The Star Spangled Banner." At the close of the banquet Miss Hickman responded, after which Mrs. Alfred Engelhardt, corps president, gave a fine address. The flowers, which had been so lavishly used in decorating the hall, were carefully removed and sent throughout the valley to the various homes of those who are sick and afflicted, thus emphasizing most eloquently as well as beautifully one of the motives of the Relief Corps. Loving and happy messages were sent by absent members to Miss Hickman.

MRS. MORGAN ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan entertained a coterie of friends at her home on Central avenue, Friday evening, complimentary to Mr. Morgan, who had just celebrated his anniversary and also to commemorate her and Mr. Morgan's eleventh wedding anniversary. The house throughout was most effectively decorated in black-eyed Susans and trailing greenery. Five hundred was enjoyed by all of the guests. Mrs. William A. Thompson received ladies' first prize, Mr. Wesley H. Bullis gentleman's first prize, and Mrs. Charles Peckham, the booby prize.

Mrs. Morgan was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Albert W. Collins and Mrs. Joseph H. Webster.

The guests who responded were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley H. Bullis, Mr. and Mrs. Hal H. Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Elkanah W. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. John Seaman, Mrs. C. G. Wilkinson, Mrs. Hattie Brewster, Mrs. Charles Peckham, Mrs. William A. Thompson, Mrs. W. H. Halleck, Mrs. John Farrar, Mrs. Adaline Thompson, Dr. Tholen and H. B. Lynch.

The following resolutions were unanimously accepted at the session of the Sunday morning services of the First Presbyterian church:

"We judge each other harshly,
Knowing not the hidden force,
Knowing not the fount of action
Is less turbid at the source,
Seeing not amid the evil
All the golden grains of good
Oh! We'd love each other better
If we only understood."

WHEREAS, Rev. D. M. Stuart, the beloved pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Tropic, has resigned from the pastorate of said church; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That our deep and sincere appreciation be extended Rev. Stuart for his untiring efforts and loving devotion in the organization and establishment of our First Presbyterian church in Tropic; also for his strenuous efforts physically as well as mentally in the erection, completion and furnishing of our church edifice, which will ever stand as a lasting monument to his love and devotion to the Master's cause; Be it further

Mrs. F. Pomeroy returned home Saturday from Oakland, where she has been absent for several weeks visiting at the home of her son, Dr. Geo. Pomeroy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Humphrey are at Ocean Park for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Shillings, of Los Angeles, spent Sunday at the home of A. Shillings.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church have postponed their social until Oct. 24, on account of the death of Mr. Craig. An interesting program is promised.

Miss June Lutge entertained at her home the first of the week Miss Minnie Kalberlah, of Los Angeles; Miss Lela Stone, of Texas, and Mr. Jean Rodgers, of Chicago.

Dr. E. H. Thompson and wife, who have been absent several weeks, the doctor in New York taking medical examinations and Mrs. Thompson in Chicago, returned to Burbank Wednesday night.

Mrs. Craig, mother of William Craig, died at the home of her son, Tuesday evening, after a short illness of La Grippe. Mrs. Craig was born in Canada 68 years ago. The remains were sent to her old home in Canada.

A merry crowd of boys took advantage of the opening of the quail season and left early Tuesday morning for Chatsworth, expecting to return home Saturday evening. The boys were Ray Ladlow, Iva Robison, Henry Lehman, Harry Hixon and Earle Robinson.

Rally Day was very appropriately observed last Sunday at the Presbyterian church, where special services were conducted by the superintendent. Specially prepared music was given by the school and choir. Rev. D. McCunn gave an interesting talk concerning Rally Day. The church being decorated for the occasion.

Rev. D. M. McCunn and family will leave about the first of November for Los Angeles, where Mr. McCunn has a charge at Boyle Heights, where there is a good church and a fine congregation. Mr. McCunn has been pastor of the Burbank Presbyterian church for ten years, and has won a large circle of friends who are sorry to learn of his leaving.

Apparently the zeal of the quail hunter is waterproof. Although it rained the greater part of Tuesday and Wednesday the unopposed foothill areas resounded all day with the boom of guns. Many Los Angeles sportsmen were in the field and all were more or less successful. The San Fernando Road being muddy did not prevent the automobiles from running. On account of the heavy rains last winter and the consequent good crops, the quail are numerous in the foothill section. It augurs well for a good season that despite unfavorable conditions so many birds were bagged Tuesday. But one limit has been reported, that one hunter is not allowed to kill over twenty-five birds in one day. Different parties have gone to Chatsworth and San Fernando, in which places the birds are reported to be abundant.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lupton, who have resided here for the past twelve years, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary, Sunday, at their home on Magnolia avenue. They were married in Yorkshire, England. On coming to this country they were shipwrecked 700 miles from land. A passing ship rescued them, returning them to Fal mouth, England. They sailed again, and after a six weeks' voyage landed in New York. They proceeded to Marion county, Ill., residing there until coming to California. Mr. and Mrs. Lupton are the parents of eight children, of whom six are living. Of the latter are Mrs. Emily Burns, Fresno; Mrs. Hannah Whaley, Ocean Park; Mrs. Jennie A. Partell, Fresno; Mrs. Florence Wulf, Los Angeles; Edwin Lupton, Los Angeles, and George W. Lupton, San Francisco. About two years ago Mr. Lupton, leased their ranch, to take life comfortably, building a fine bungalow on Magnolia avenue where they now reside. The house was tastefully decorated, the living room being in pink and green, and the dining room in white and green. Fifty white rose buds, each rose indicating a year, mingled with smiles, decorated the table. Mr. and Mrs. Lupton's first wedding dishes were used on the table and two cut glass salt sellers over 150 years old, which have been handed down from four generations. Dishes were also on the table which Abraham Lincoln had eaten off of. A number of handsome presents were received, among which was a cushion top sent from the East with about fifty names on it of those who were not able to be present. Mr. and Mrs. Lupton each received a handsome brooch. Covers at luncheon were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lupton, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lupton, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Whaley and children, Ocean Park, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lupton and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wulf, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cook and daughter, Daisy, returned home the first of the week from a three months' visit with friends and relatives in the East.

CAMPING DAYS.

Miss Flora Chandler, Miss Lillian Elias, Miss Fannie Marple, Miss Emily Elias, Mr. Albert Marple and Mr. Edward Weston attended a party in Los Angeles, given by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Packard at their residence Thursday evening, at which the guests were members of the camping party Mr. and Mrs. Packard chaperoned while at Camp Rincon, the past summer. The guests, twenty-five in number, were seated around a supposedly real camp fire, such as they enjoyed while in camp, and related camp life anecdotes and adventures. The refreshments were served camp fashion, and consisted of the savory viands which appease the appetites of the campers. Host, hostess and guests were attired in their khaki suits.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKET BALL.

On Saturday an enthusiastic crowd of High School pupils chaperoned by Prof. Geo. U. Moysa and accompanied by Prof. and Mrs. Howe and Miss McClean, went to Compton for the first boys' basket ball league game of the season. Recently the Compton team, through a city paper declared its ability to win any game of the season, and the Glendale boys went down prepared to "show them."
